
WHY

Panhandle  PBS

Because, Panhandle PBS is the trusted source for arts, entertainment, business and education in the Texas Panhandle. After all, we live here.

- Live Here focuses on issues and people in and around the Panhandle featuring in-depth community topics like no other media organization can.
 - Play Here covers the arts and entertainment. If you're looking for what's happening in Amarillo, Play Here is your source.
 - The Season takes you through an entire season of an arts organization giving you a glimpse of what patrons see and what they don't, behind the scenes.
 - Learn Here connects you with what's going on in classrooms in Amarillo and across the Texas Panhandle covering social and political issues affecting schools.
 - Biz Here keeps an eye on business trends and economic activity. Through blogs, podcasts and videos you get the scoop on innovators and development.
 - PBS LearningMedia site provides meaningful curriculum resources to teachers and parents connecting students to our region and the world.

Panhandle PBS meets you where you are – with fresh, relevant content across television, radio, social media and the web.
